Ladue High . . .

Our stairway to the future

At the base of the stairway the span of our vision was short . . .

As the stairs were ascended our vista grew ever more broad . . .

When the landing was reached then our eyes did encompass far lands . . .

But if our goal is to see the whole world then our climb must not end . . .

Our steps led us through classes

WE REMEMBER: The halls' milling mob during the five-minute race . . . the challenge of anticipating pop-quizzes . . . the grind of the pencil sharpener . . . the sulphurous odors from the chem room
. . . the welcome intrusions of the workmen . . . the crash as our unbalanced desks topple to the floor . . .
the half-opened eyes in the first hour class . . . the pleasant distraction of harmony from the music room . . .

WE REMEMBER — Into the last year the seniors crammed many exciting events which will never be forgotten: the Card Party to raise money for the Football Prom which climaxed the undefeated season, the April Fool's Skating Party, the excitement of Skip Day, the Senior Assembly, and graduation, the pinnacle of our high school days.

BOB TUVIL

President

JOHN SMITH

Vice-President

JOYE DICKENS

Secretary-Treasurer

WE REMEMBER — To start the year off with a spark the junior clan gathered for a class picnic to get acquainted and re-acquainted. The picnic was only the start of a long remembered year. Funds for the bang-up Junior-Senior Prom were raised by bake sales and a fashion show. Next year's seniors participated wholeheartedly in all activities from sports to the snack bar.

BLAIN McCLARY

BOB JONES

Secretary

LINDA RUDMAN

Treasurer

WE REMEMBER — The sophomore class planned excitedly and worked earnestly for their mammoth project of the year, the Winterlude. Changing the dance from a Christmas party to a celebration of St. Valentine's Day, and introducing the tradition of crowning a Senior "King of Hearts", the clever group made their dance a memorable event.

MIKE SCHWARTZ

President

BILL JONES

Vice-President

MARILYN HARDT

Secretary-Treasurer

WE REMEMBER — The freshman class held two parties in the cafeteria, the first incorporating a jazz theme and the second suggesting a night club. This class also helped to set up a junior high school student council. Many home room discussions helped in establishing an esprit de corps that should be an asset in future years.

Our steps led us into activities

WE REMEMBER: The gathering of souvenirs after an unforgettable prom . . . the stop at the snack bar, then off to a club meeting . . . the eternal rehearsals for dramatic productions . . . the Tuesday evenings with at least three club meetings scheduled . . . the frantic decorating at six o'clock for a dance which starts at eight-thirty . . . the bruises and aching muscles resulting from a skating escapade . . .

Calm Counsel and Constructive Leadership

Wearing airs of sagacity, our eight legislators filed semi-monthly into Mr. Stauffer's office. With Elliot Elson, our efficient president, presiding, the Student Council continued to promote school spirit, good citizenship, and scholarship. The student body, taking an active part in their government, elected the council and its president last spring.

The council acted as a legislative body, concerning itself with passage of laws for the betterment of our school. The major portion of the council's activities was concerned with handling numerous small details which extra-curricular activities of a school usually entail.

The council's main efforts have resulted in the establishment of an Honor Roll for all grades, and an Honor Society for seniors and juniors. It also initiated an extensive campaign program preceding the spring election for the 1955-56 president of the council.

Do Unto Others . . .

While it may sound simple enough to improve "human relations," we must remember that the world has been working towards this goal for some five thousand years. Our Human Relations Club furthered this goal by becoming a very active working organization.

Under Mr. Marvin Fridley's sponsorship, Ladue's students took advantage of the opportunity to both meet and understand other high school students of various races, creeds, and backgrounds. Ordinarily, we tend to view events only as they pertain to us, or at most, to our school or community. The Human Relations Club provided the means for broadening our outlook by allowing students to see how other people live — both psychologically and emotionally.

The club was also very active in the Greater St. Louis National Conference of Christians and Jews, which sponsored the Brotherhood Conference in May, attended by over one thousand high school students from the St. Louis area, including twenty-five Ladue students.

"The Junior Town Meeting of the Air" was sponsored by this organization. As a result of the knowledge gathered by the club's delegation, the topic of discussion was, "How can Missouri's prison problem be solved?" Anne Reisse, Marianne Susman, Richard Metz, and Clark Russell participated in this program.

First row: Abramson, Goggin, Schneider, Pass, Kessler, Stein, Mr. Fridley, Oxenhandler, Reisse, Handelman, Hanser, Metz, Whitton. Second row: Susman, Zink, Gelber, Wasserman, Class fights the deadline.

Armed with the ambition to make the 1955 Rambler the biggest and most comprehensive yearbook in Ladue's short history, the staff worked unceasingly all year. The close cooperation of representatives from the engraving and printing companies helped the editors, Jim Arthur and Dee Dickens, immensely in planning and organizing.

By changing printing companies, this year's staff has been able to put out a larger yearbook with money saved. It might be added, too, that the thicker cover and extra pictures were also the result of smaller printing costs and a high pressure advertising campaign.

The staff hopes that it has achieved its aim in presenting to the students of Ladue a yearbook that they can be proud of and that will bring back fond memories in years to come.

In All Our Future Years . . .

Kipling's "six honest serving men, where, what, when, how, why, and who," have also proved to be of invaluable service to the staff of the Ladue Local. This industrious group, under the guidance of Mr. Robert Hoadley, attempted to present to the students a paper that was of high quality and of interest to all grades.

A new plan of having an editor for each month was introduced this year, his assistant becoming editor of the following issue. In this way more people had an opportunity to assert their leadership abilities; the work and responsibility were divided more evenly. In addition to printing the paper the Local staff also compiled and published the Ram-Bell.

This year's journalism class, made up entirely of seniors, enjoyed field trips, informative lectures, and became acquainted with the rudiments of journalism.

Editors share ideas.

There's a Song in the Air

Concert Band

Memories of the football games on the cold, crisp days bring to mind the lively music of the Concert Band. The games would not have been complete without its zippy marches.

Becoming a member of this integral part of school life is an honor. Those aspiring to the post must have the necessary qualifications, and show their superiority by giving a performance in band literature. Awards are made to members who have met the eligibility requirements according to merit points accumulated during the year.

From the Concert Band, outstanding musicians were selected to play in the St. Louis County Band and Orchestra. Ladue could boast of ten who merited this honor.

Brackman, Vice-President
Mr. Turmail, Director

Concert Chorus

Adding finishing touches to many events throughout the year, the Concert Choir completed its activities by performance at the Baccalaureate Service. This climaxed a season of singing at assembly programs, the Christmas program, the Father-Daughter Banquet, a home-making style show, and the Spring Musical. For performance in these varied programs, its repertoire was necessarily varied, including selections from Bach to "bop". The members of this outstanding group were far from being amateurs, as each had to have had at least two years previous experience to qualify for membership.

Ten members of the Concert Choir were chosen for membership in the All County Chorus, for which Ladue's instructor, Miss Yates, was selected director.

Say It With Music

The smooth harmony emitting from instruments of the Junior Band class in May gave little trace of the discordant sounds which characterized those same instruments the preceding September. Mrs. Barbara Cook, Mr. George Turmail, and the seventh and eighth grade aspiring musicians made great strides during the year.

Most of the members of this band had only one year of instrumental experience prior to Junior Band, and made excellent progress through practice and private lessons. When a student gained sufficient skill to sit in the coveted "first chair," he and his rival for the position were voted upon, and the victorious one was put one step higher on his way to becoming a successful musician.

The vocal renditions issuing from the music room were the Junior Girls and Junior Boys Choruses which practiced daily. They were a credit to Miss Yates, the director. In addition to singing for school assemblies, festivals, and other events, the group also displayed their skill in an annual tour of the elemen- tary schools.

The freshman teams were well supported and cheered to victory by the newly formed Junior High Pep Club. The club was highly successful and filled a definite need in our school.

The ninety-five members elected the following officers: Barbara Stone, president; Jean Leutwiler, vice-president; Carol Conreux, secretary; and Eileen Sharbaugh, treasurer. Miss Grueb, the sponsor, helped in the planning of the annual "Starlight Prom." All members invited dates to see Barbara Stone crowned Queen, and Karen Hanke and Marilyn Martin named maids.

Serving School

At 3:30 sharp a swarm of students buzzed around the snack bar. Manager Bob Taussig and his crew of workers served scores of students daily, and during many school events.

The snack bar, previously a project of the senior class, was turned over to the juniors this year. The profits now help pay for the junior trip to Washington and New York in the spring.

Serving Community

The girls who made up the Y-Teens Club found many new experiences this year. The group, sponsored by the YWCA, under the direction of Mrs. Helledy, met bi-monthly. Various methods of raising money, including bake sales, made it possible to contribute a donation to Missouri Boys' Town. This was an important year for the Y-Teens as it was the Centennial Year of the YWCA.

Ram's Den

"There's Ram's Den after the game" became the weekly cry during the basketball season. After three months of organization the teen town's executive board offered many renovations to its two hundred members. The juke box and records and infrequent bands provided music for dancing, and ping-pong and badminton were available for those so inclined.

Tomorrow's Leaders

The feeling that the Junior High School should have its own governing body became a reality in the spring of 1955. Nineteen students from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades were elected from their home rooms to a student council. With the advice of Mr. Stauffer they discussed the purpose of student government and decided in what areas the council should have jurisdiction.

Vive la France

The "parlez-vous francais?" and the "oui, oui's" flying furiously in class were not enough to satisfy the French students. They wanted to meet outside of school, and become better acquainted with the romantic country and the "language of love." At the biggest event of the season, a "Twelfth Night" party, Donne Hansen, Joye Dickens, and Judy Simms were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Under the direction of Mr. Hurd the members developed enthusiasm for the people and language of France.

Vivat Roma

The saying "The South will rise again" not only pertains to our South, but also to the South of Europe, where Rome is gaining world prominence. For many Latin students, Rome's language, culture, and customs lived again at the monthly meetings of the Latin Club directed by Mr. Schmidt. The highlight of the year was the Saturnalian Banquet for which the club raised money by auctioning off the younger members as slaves. Although the language is frequently termed "dead," the spirit was very much alive among our Romans.

Scholarship

Among the students who will hold forth in the classrooms of tomorrow were the Future Teachers of America. The group, under the supervision of Mrs. Cantelupe, visited and observed classes in the School of the Blind and in the elementary schools of Ladue. They discussed concepts developed during these visits, which were a prelude to their future profession.

Science

The Doctor Jekylls and Mr. Hydes of tomorrow are the members of the Seventh Grade Science Club. With the advice of Mr. Hartwig, this student group pursued scientific hobbies through application of their studies to practical purposes. For them the world of science came to life through field trips, chemical experiments, and other investigations into the mysterious world of science.

Service

The future statesmen of America participated in the mock United Nations General Assembly, an organization which includes students from all high schools in St. Louis. Through enacting a miniature General Assembly, the students gained practical knowledge of the procedure of the U. N. Among Ladue's delegates was Bob Schneider who delivered a prize-winning speech.

cis, Jones, Robb, Dunson. Third Row: Sharbaugh, Fox, Whitton, Hudson, Brod.

Extremely High Caliber

Our stairways were trampled every Monday morning by anxious members of the Rifle Club rushing to sign up for shooting on Thursday. Only twelve students, accompanied by Mr. Kuchner, could go to the Ladue rifle range each week to shoot for awards given by the National Rifle Association. Margaret Covell, president, and Sandy Dunson, secretary-treasurer, saw that the safety laws were obeyed.

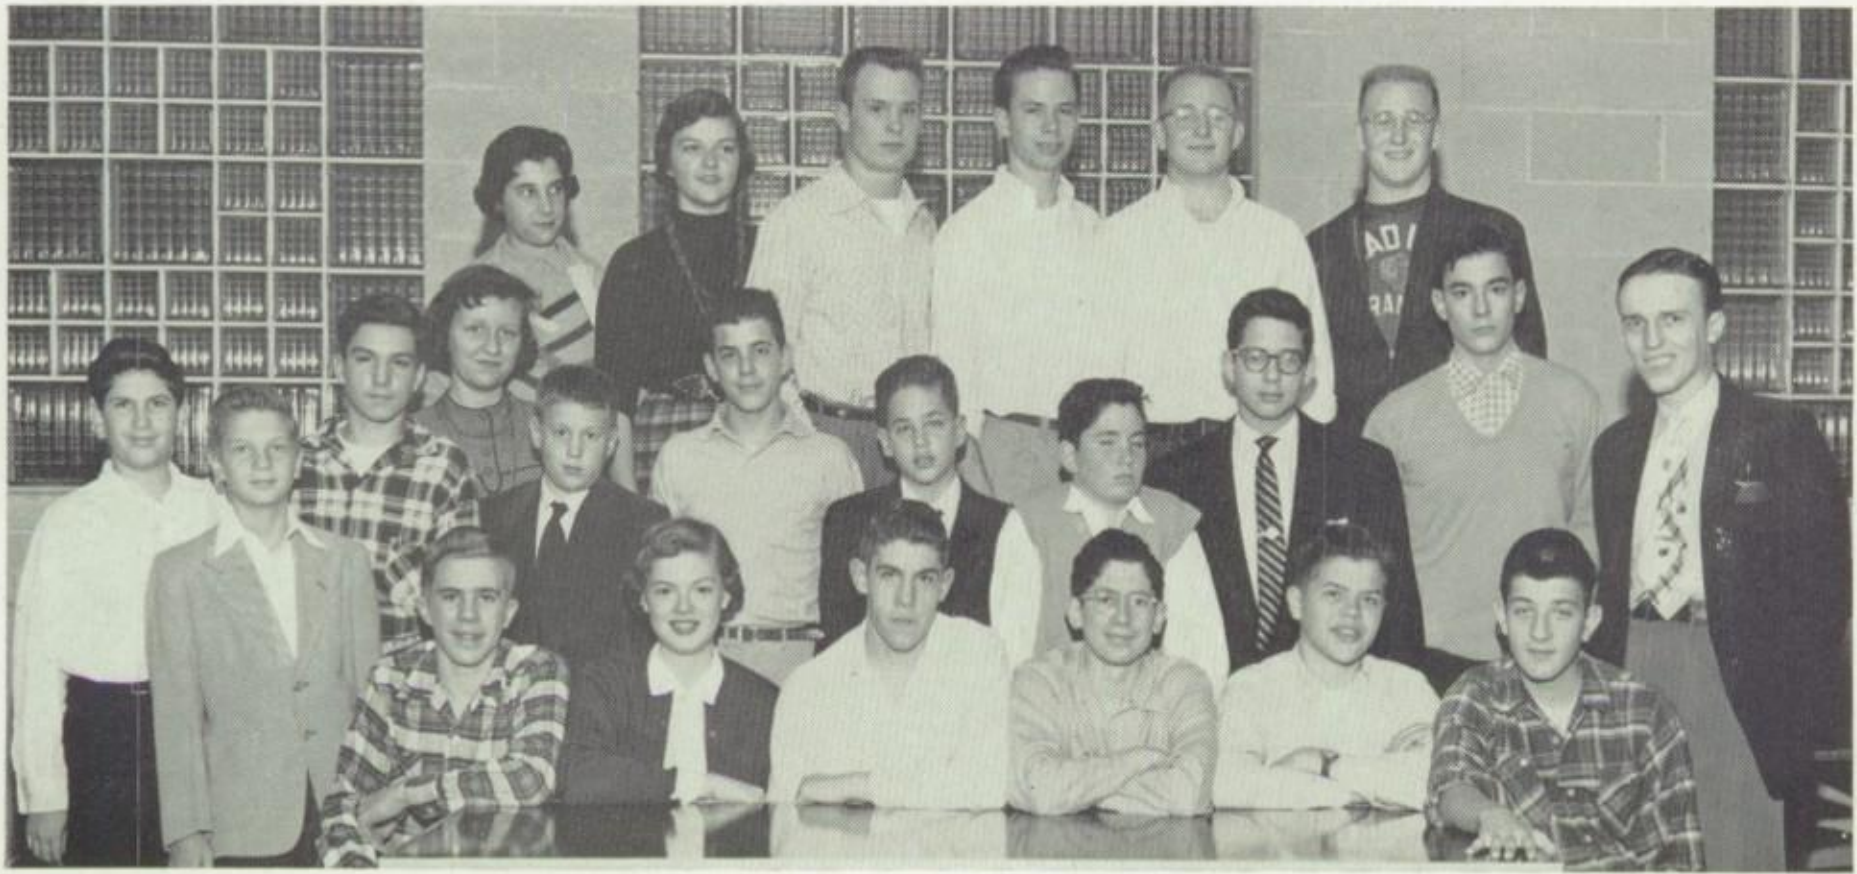

Ten Pin Alley

The "High Rollers" kept Clayton Bowl crowded every Tuesday after school. Sponsor "Senator" Lewis and the three officers: president, Cortland O'Bannon; secretary, Sandy Dunson; and treasurer, Mary Cassett, have "bowled up" quite a bit of enthusiasm among the members. The more professional of the group thrilled at seeing their names in print on the "High Rollers" list, and graciously gave instructions.

Knights 'n Daze

The "Game of the Ages," chess, which such dignitaries as Napoleon and Einstein called their favorite, has established a new marker in history . . . a club at Ladue High. At the first meeting in November, Frank Taussig was elected president; Bob Jones, vice-president; and Elaine Lowell, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Joachim Schneider sponsored the erudites.

Ice Skidders

The Skating Club piled in cars every other Friday afternoon and soon were whizzing briskly over the ice at the Winter Garden. The club's goal, to aid inexperienced skaters and improve the skating skills of the more professional, was reached through the efforts of Valerie White, president; Sharon Ward, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Robert Bassman, sponsor.

The Play's the Thing

Glaring footlights, the swish of a curtain, one breathless moment, and the show is on. This is the moment an actor dreams of, but there are many more people than the actor who are responsible for its success. There have been try-outs, rehearsals, lighting, make-up, costuming, publicity, stagecraft, and ticket selling, all leading up to curtain time. The actors are only a part of the play. Others behind the scene are equally important.

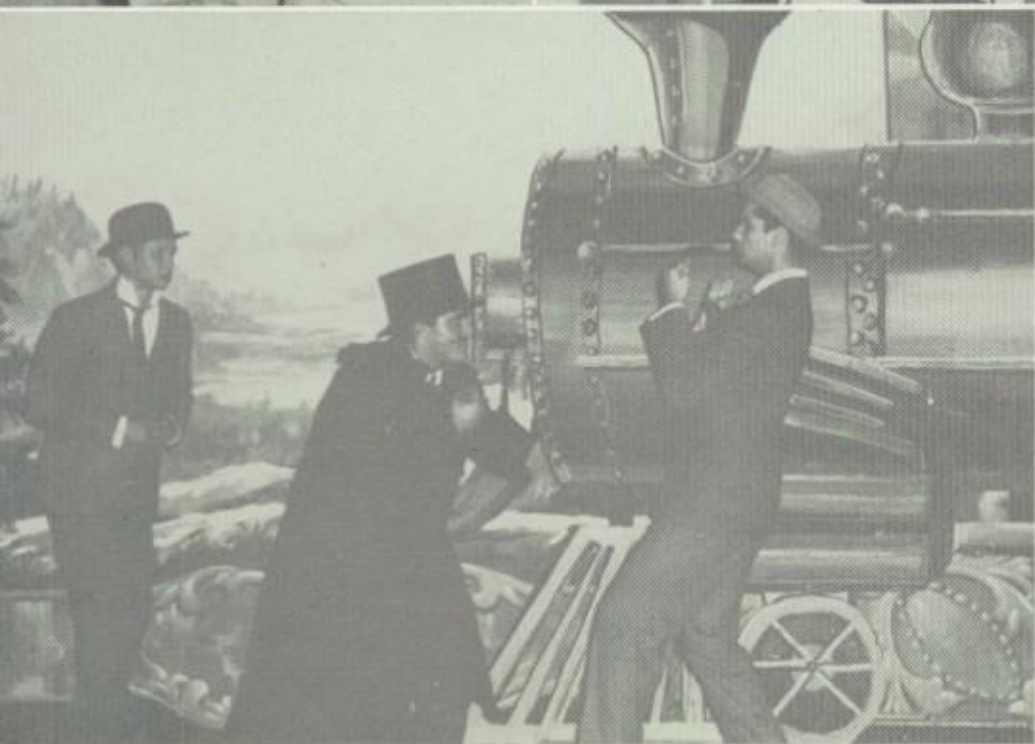

Those who participate in any phase of a production are eligible for membership in the National Thespian Society. A highly honorary organization, the Thespians is a dramatic group which services, supervises and participates in all theatrical activities. It is a non-secret, non-social recognition society which has high school troupes located in 48 states, Panama Canal Zone, Alaska, Hawaii, and Japan.

If a student shows outstanding work and completes a prescribed amount of service in any of the various fields of drama, he may become a member.

The Society was introduced at Ladue this year, with 15 charter members. However, by the date of the formal initiation, many more had become members. These received certificates from Mr. Frank Jakes, the dramatics and speech instructor, at a special assembly.

Members participated in backstage and acting work in several plays. Among these was the tense thriller "The Night of January 16," and the comic melodrama, "Love Rides the Rails."

Ladue's victory over Wellston's four-point effort, 52-7, was the first of the season for the Blue Jacks. The team's next game is against Arden Hills on Saturday. Ladue's victory over Wellston was a surprise, as the team had not won a game in over two weeks.

Undefeated

Ours to keep

The fighting Rams of 1954 achieved the first undefeated record at Ladue under the coaching of Mr. Davis and Mr. Nielson. The squad of thirty-five boys worked hard for their team and were rewarded by winning the Suburban Little Six football title and ranking ninth in the state.

Sparked by their co-captains, Jim Arthur and Drew Ehrhardt, Ladue successfully upset Maplewood 7 to 0 in the first game of the season. They met John Burroughs next and achieved their needed revenge by defeating them 26 to 12. Marching past Brentwood in the first league game 34 to 0, we saw another triumph come as a result of a 52 to 7 win over Wellston. Ferguson was set to spoil the Rams' record October 21, but Ladue maintained its own, winning 13 to 0. In a non-league game at Normandy, Ladue again showed its superior strength by downing the Vikings 20 to 13. St. Charles proved to be little competition as the Rams cinched a league tie by dumping them 37 to 6. Clayton was the final contest in our 8 to 0 season; in a toughly fought battle the Rams managed to win, 7 to 0.

Ladue's success was due to the fine attitude and teamwork of the boys during a rugged season, and to the enthusiasm of its fellow students.

B Football

The B team was made up of sophomores exclusively and is designed to give experience to strengthen the varsity in the coming years.

They had a reasonably successful season, winning from Ritenour and St. Charles, losing to Normandy and Kirkwood. The seventeen that made up Coach Cain's outfit showed a fine spirit and Varsity Coach Davis is optimistic with respect to next year's varsity prospects.

Freshmen Football

Under the coaching of Mr. Schroeder the freshman football team had a very successful season in '54. Their offense was copied from the varsity's "split T" which proved to be the guiding factor in their victories. The squad played a light schedule as they are credited with a 3 and 1 record.

They downed Brentwood, Wellston, and Chaminade with ease. Their only loss was to Ferguson.

Basketball

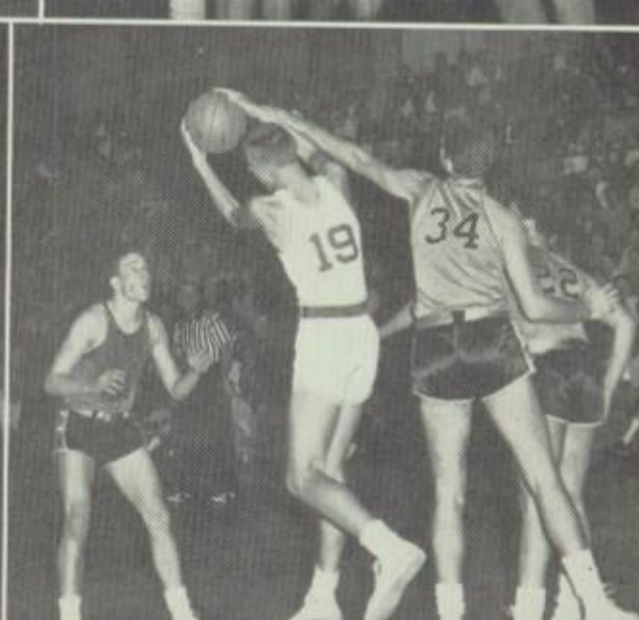

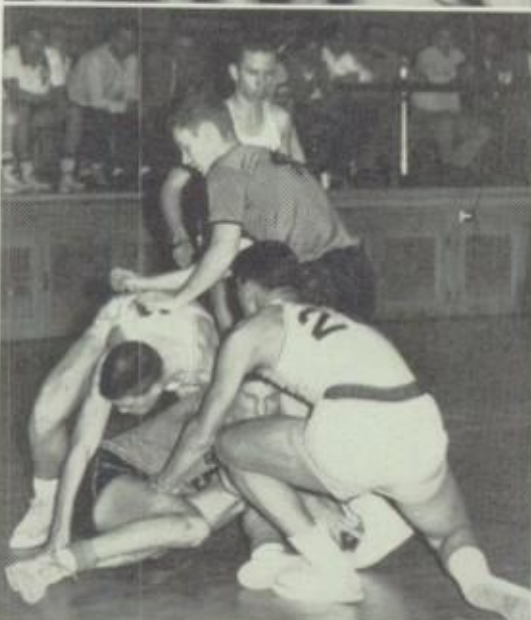

BASKETBALL COACH AND CAPTAINS: Arthur, Cain, Thomas

Keeping step with the other varsity teams, this year's basketball squad turned out to be the best in Ladue's short history. The team, which was predominantly made up of juniors, displayed a wonderful fighting spirit which made it respected by all league opponents. The sharp defense, co-ordinated teamwork, and slick ball-handling were also influential factors in the squad's good showing.

Under the experienced guidance of Coach Cain, the boys started work-outs early in the season and sharpened up with several practice scrimmages against Burroughs before the league contests began. Ranked sixth in the Suburban League, the Rams sported an overall record of eight wins and thirteen losses. Ross Aune, six-foot four junior who played center on the squad, held the individual scoring record with an average of thirteen points a game. Much is expected of Aune and the other juniors next year.

B Basketball

This year the "Junior Rams" went through one of their better years, winning eight games. Harold Bowerman, Fred White, Richard Smith, Bob Brandenburger, and Art Loomstein were the starting five, with Art Loomstein and Bob Brandenburger holding the scoring honors with 171 and 149 points respectively.

Their unusual aggressiveness and spirit made Mr. Klein and Mr. Cain feel that this year's "B" team will be a great asset to next year's varsity team.

Freshmen Basketball

The freshman team completed a thirteen-game season by winning 11 and dropping 4 which is five more wins than last year's team. The freshmen were also fortunate enough to take second place in the Freshman Tournament composed of the Suburban League Schools.

Jim Brown, Morty Gelber, Bob Lurie, Don Anthon, and Bill Werber were the starting quintet. Scoring honors went to Jim Brown and Morty Gelber, although for the most part the scoring was well-divided.

Soccer

Although the varsity soccer record is not too impressive, the team, under the coaching of Mr. Nielson, gained valuable experience. The team in a league with John the Baptist, Country Day, and Chaminade, lost all its games with the exception of one tie with Chaminade in league play. In non-league play their only victory was against Principia. With many returning lettermen and up and coming sophomores, the outlook for the 1955-56 season is excellent.

B Soccer

Twenty-two boys reported for the B soccer team under Mr. Nielson. Their schedule was a difficult one but the coach felt the season gave the boys worthwhile experience; next season they will be more valuable to the varsity squad.

Ten games were played, four of which were won. The Rams downed Principia twice, Mercy and John Burroughs once each; however, they were defeated twice by St. Louis University High and Country Day and once by John Burroughs and St. Mary's.

Wrestling

The wrestling squad under the direction of Mr. Schroeder showed great improvement as the season progressed. Typical of most minor sports, the turnout was not all that might have been desired; however, the twelve competed in suburban league competition and with the Missouri School of the Blind. Although unsuccessful, the squad also entered the State Wrestling Meet at Maplewood in February.

This year's team was centered around two returning lettermen, Al Parker, captain, in the 145-pound division and Howard Stemme in the 154-pound division.

Cross Country

The team started its first year with fifteen men being greeted by good-natured Coach Nelson. Eight boys reported after the first week of practice and at the end of the second week there were five men left. Dave Hudson finished 37th in the state, Paul Crebs finished 111th, Mike Searles finished 98th, Dave May finished 114th, and Ed "Butch" Walsh finished 105th in the state. The whole team finished 18th in the state meet. The team will welcome back four of its veterans and a fine manager, Dave Abramson, for a successful season next year.

Cheerleaders

Approximately sixty girls turned out for the Pep Club early the first semester, at which time the Junior and Senior Pep Clubs were formed. The principal purpose of the Senior Pep Club is to create school spirit, activity and good will.

Members were responsible for the sale of school pennants and car stickers. In the spring a week was set aside for cheerleading practice in order to teach prospective cheerleaders for next year. Following this practice week an assembly and election were conducted with the result that eight cheerleaders were selected for next year. The officers are Beverly Lane, President; Judy Hanser, Vice-president; Judy Braznell, Treasurer; and Joye Dickens, Secretary.

Hockey

The varsity hockey team was selected from the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior class squads. Although it was a worthwhile season, the exercise the girls had practicing two nights a week was the principal advantage. An enthusiasm was developed that encouraged the girls to anticipate next year's schedule.

Competition was keen among the girls and the season was a success.

Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team had a respectable season with 2 wins and 4 losses. Since this was the best team Ladue has had, the seniors, who comprised more than half the team, will be missed. With the ability and spirit the team has had, next year's team will be equally fine.

The varsity was chosen by Miss Bonny Wallace, their coach, from intramural class squads of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Dear Boggi and! (or Mrs. Steinmeyer)

Well, I guess I won't say anything about Richard because almost everyone else has. However, do have fun but be good (as possible). I realize that is hard for you but try.

I think maybe in the future there is a certain article of clothing you had better buy for yourself — Best Wishes unless you prefer the kind your Mom buys you.

Maybe in a couple of years we can do what we wanted to during Spring Vacation. I really do think it would be tons of fun.

Have fun this summer in Mexico — I know I'll have a grand time in Tulsa (with a specific person — I wonder who?). Don't flirt with too many Mexican boys — they probably won't be prepared for some of your

We sell "LONG LIFE" and "APPEARANCE" too

The care and thoroughness used when cleaning garments go a long way toward preserving the life of fabrics; and the way they are "finished" has much to do with one's every-day appearance. We are proud of our work . . . and remind you that every garment cleaned by us is MOTHPROOFED, too (at no extra cost to you).

You are invited to inspect our modern plant operating at 9908 Clayton Road.
